Artspace Celebrates David Moore's Impact as He Begins a New Chapter in Maryland

Raleigh, NC — Artspace extends heartfelt congratulations to David Moore, our Director of Community Engagement, as he steps into a new role as a Placemaking Project Manager/Planner III with the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission. David has been an invaluable member of the Artspace team for the past three years, shaping dynamic community experiences and championing accessibility in the arts.

David was the first ever Director of Community Engagement at Artspace, representing a new chapter in the organization's commitment to community impact. His leadership has been instrumental in expanding the organization's reach through key initiatives such as Artspace on the Go, increased onsite community programs, the launch of the Artspace Ambassador volunteer program, and the revitalization of our First Friday monthly art walk. His vision, energy, and dedication have enriched the cultural landscape of the Triangle and built lasting bridges with diverse communities.

Reflecting on his time at Artspace, David shared:

"The last three years have been nothing short of amazing as Artspace has transformed into the people's art center filled with inclusive experiences inviting the Triangle's mosaic of communities to our building in downtown Raleigh. I am so proud of the impact Artspace has made and this is just the beginning. Artspace is experiencing a renaissance and I can't wait to see what comes next."

Carly Jones, President and CEO of Artspace, remarked:

"David has been a remarkable leader and colleague whose contributions have helped shape a more inclusive and community-centered Artspace. Through his work, he deepened our connections across the region and built meaningful, lasting pathways to the arts. We are grateful for his dedication and the lasting impact he leaves behind here in downtown Raleigh and beyond."

David's final major event, Arts on the Block, took place this past weekend and also served as a joyful celebration of his contributions. The event brought together artists, families, and neighbors in the spirit of community that now defines Artspace.

David's impact will continue to resonate through the programs he built and the communities he touched. Artspace is stronger because of his leadership, and we wish him continued success in this next chapter.
